~~§ 22 — Quotes by the quote provider~~

- ~~(1) — During trading hours and at request of the lead broker (Skontroführer) the Issuer, or the Participant whom the Issuer authorises to execute the market settlement (hereinafter referred to as "quote provider") must quote a binding range, consisting of a bid and an offer limit (quote) that is valid up to an appropriate volume currently customary in the market and which at least complies with the minimum trading unit or an integral (whole numbered) multiple thereof.~~
- ~~(2) — The obligation set out in paragraph 1 does not have to be complied with if it is unreasonable to expect a quote to be supplied in the individual case due to particular circumstances affecting the quote provider (e.g. a poor telephone line, a breakdown in the system) or due to a specific market situation (e.g. extraordinary price volatility of the underlying). The lead broker (Skontroführer) must immediately be notified of this and must keep a record of such cases.~~
- ~~(3) — Upon the application of the Issuer and in agreement with the Executive Management of the FWB, DBAG may determine the timeframe in which the quote provider has to supply quotes ("quotation timeframe") and that differs from trading hours, as long as this does not adversely affect important investors' protection interests. If the trading hours differ from the quotation timeframe, the Issuer of the product in question must ensure that investors and trading Participants are notified immediately and make a record of the matter.~~
- ~~(4) — If quotes are entered into an electronic information system they shall reflect current market oriented prices to the extent that this is possible from an organisational and technical point of view. The volume at which the quote provider is willing to conclude transactions shall also be indicated.~~
- ~~(5) — It must be possible for the lead broker (Skontroführer) to contact the quote provider by telephone during the quoting period so that agreement may be reached concerning the price determination.~~

 - ~~b) — the lead broker has agreed with the quote provider to conclude orders against the quote provider without a previous quote request and it is necessary to form an open transaction subject to designation of the counterparty; or~~
 - ~~c) — the lead broker has agreed with the quote provider not to execute against the quote provider, although a quote has been submitted. In this case the exchange price must be lower than or at least equal to the offer limit of the quote in the case of a buy order. In case of a sell order the exchange price must be higher than or equal to the bid limit of the quote.~~~~
- ~~(2) — Paragraph 1 also applies to open transactions subject to the designation of the counterparty with underlying buy or sell orders of different volumes, as well as to proprietary transactions.~~

~~(3) — Agreements between the lead broker and the quote provider must be disclosed to the Administering Institution in accordance with paragraph 1 letter b) and letter c).~~

~~(4) — Both the lead broker and the quote provider must record all conversations concerning trading activities in accordance with § 22 and § 23 paragraphs 1 to 3; the records must be kept for at least three months.~~

~~§ 24 — Prohibition of short selling~~

~~(1) — Trading Participants are not permitted to sell structured products without having sufficient holdings in the respective structured product at the time that the sell transaction is made. ~~(2) The obligation pursuant to Paragraph 1 may not be fulfilled if, due to special circumstances in the fund specialist's area of operations (e.g. system breakdown or an economically unsustainable strain for the fund specialist) or due to a particular market situation (e.g. extraordinary price movement in the underlying), the naming of a quote with volumes is unacceptable.~~

~~(3) If particular circumstances in the area of the issuer of the fund shares occur, the following provisions regarding the obligation of the fund specialist to provide a quote with volumes apply:~~
